- Curriculum decision-making maximises each child's learning and development opportunities.
- Critical reflection and questioning of teaching practice occurs to maximise the child's participation and voice within the program.

How do we ensure that the child's voice is heard within our programs and organisation?

- Each child's current knowledge, ideas, culture, abilities and interests are consistently incorporated and actively drive all aspects of the program.
- The program, including routines, maximises each child's involvement and engagement in learning.
- Every child is actively and consistently supported to engage in the program.
- Each child's identity and independence is consistently considered and promoted, enabling them to make a range of choices and decisions to influence events in their world.
- Assessment of each child's learning and development is part of an ongoing cycle of planning, documenting and evaluation. It is an interactive process that drives development of the program.
- Staff / educators consistently respond to children's ideas and intentional teaching is embedded within the program to scaffold and extend each child's learning.

- Critical reflection on children's learning and development, both as individuals and in groups, is consistently used to implement, review and revise the program.
- Documentation is recorded on each child and progress is available in an accessible format and opportunities are provided for discussion with families.

Development of educational programs

~~The range of~~ Surf Coast Shire early years services develop educational programs utilising a range of tools and templates applicable to the specific ~~area-service~~ that is, consistent with the required frameworks.

Observations:

Staff / educators implement a range of observation methods to identify children's individual needs, abilities and interests in both an individual and group setting. This can then be used for reflections within their individual development profile and to inform the planning of their program for individual and groups of children. Some of these methods may consist of:

- Journal entries
- Jottings
- Videos / Photography / Works Samples
- Parental / Guardian / Family input
- Reports.

Children's Profiles:

A learning outcome for individual children and groups is devised through formulating specific individual and framework objectives. In addition strategies and planned activities are linked to the approved learning framework, then evaluated for future learning.

Informing parents and families about the educational programs:

Information about the educational program being implemented is available at the service for families to access.

Kindergarten - Information is regularly placed on EDUCA informing families of the current objectives and research.

~~Family Day Care (FDC) – the program is available at each FDC residence or in-venue facility.~~

Occasional Care - Information is communicated to families using Xplor and emails.

The following information is to be given to a child's parents / guardians when requested:

Definitions

Victorian Early Years Learning and Development Framework - Overview

The Victorian Early Years Learning and Development Framework advances all children's learning and development from birth to eight years. The Framework supports all early childhood professionals to work together with families to achieve common outcomes for all children.

The Victorian Framework is informed by the principles of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (1989) and the Victorian Charter of Human Rights and Responsibilities Act 2006.

The United Nations Convention on the Rights of The Child advances an image of children as subjects of rights and full members of society, capable of participating in their social worlds through their relationship with others. These principles are consistent with contemporary early childhood research.

The Victorian Early Years Framework sets the highest expectations for every child

It identifies five early years learning and development outcomes for all children:

- Children have a strong sense of identity
- Children are connected with and contribute to their world
- Children have a strong sense of wellbeing
- Children are confident and involved learners
- Children are effective communicators

The Victorian Framework describes each of these Outcomes for children from birth to eight years, linking the learning outcomes from the Early Years Learning Framework for Australia to the Victorian Essential Learning Standards (VELS) Levels 1 and 2. The Outcomes provide a shared language for all early childhood professionals and families to use when planning for children's learning and development.

The Victorian Framework identifies eight practice principles for learning and development, which describes the most effective ways for early childhood professionals to work together and with children and families to facilitate learning and development. These principles are based on the pedagogy of the Early Years Learning Framework for Australia and the P–12 Principles of Learning and Teaching, and on the latest international evidence about the best ways to support children's learning. In addition, the Victorian Framework emphasises the importance of supporting children's and families' transitions as they move within and across services throughout the early childhood period.

Marrung Aboriginal Education Plan

Marrung Educational Plan 2016-2026 was developed to improve the knowledge of our First Nations people and decrease the gap and increase the educational outcomes of Aboriginal children within Victoria's universal services.

"Victoria will be a state where the rich and thriving culture, knowledge and experience of our First Nations peoples are celebrated by all Victoria's; where our universal services systems are inclusive, responsive and respectful of Koorie people at every stage of their learning and development journey; and where every Koorie person achieves their potential, succeeds in life, and feels strong in their cultural identity".

Positive climate for learning and development

- Koorie children and learners of all ages are strong in their identity within all services.
- All Victoria understand and respect Koorie culture and history.
- Community engagement in learning and development Services and Koorie communities work together on local, place based approaches to improving learning outcomes.

Belonging, Being and Becoming Early Years Learning Framework for Australia – Overview

The Council of Australian Governments developed this Framework to assist educators to provide young children with opportunities to maximise their potential and develop a foundation for future success in learning. In this way, the Early Years Learning Framework (the Framework) contributes to realising the Council of Australian Governments' vision that:

"All children have the best start in life to create a better future for themselves and for the nation."

The framework draws on conclusive international evidence that early childhood is a vital period in children's learning and development. The framework forms the foundation for ensuring that children in all early childhood education and care settings experience quality teaching and learning. It has a specific emphasis on play-based learning and recognises the importance of communication and language (including early literacy and numeracy) and social and emotional development. The framework has been designed for use by early childhood educators working in partnership with families, children's first and most influential educators. The framework supports Goal 2 of the Melbourne Declaration on Education Goals for Young Australians, that:

All young Australians become:

- Successful learners
- Confident and creative individuals
- Active and informed citizens.

The framework conveys the highest expectations for all children's learning from birth to five years and through the transitions to school. It communicates these expectations through five Learning Outcomes and provides broad direction for early childhood educators in early childhood settings to facilitate children's learning.

In Children's Learning

The diversity in family life means that children experience belonging, being and becoming in many different ways. They bring their diverse experiences, perspectives, expectations, knowledge and skills to their learning. Children's learning is dynamic, complex and holistic. Physical, social, emotional, personal, spiritual, creative, cognitive and linguistic aspects of learning are all intricately interwoven and interrelated.

Play is a context for learning that:

- allows for the expression of personality and uniqueness
- enhances dispositions such as curiosity and creativity
- enables children to make connections between prior experiences and new learning
- assists children to develop relationships and concepts
- stimulates a sense of wellbeing.

Child Safe Standards

The Child Wellbeing and Safety Act 2005 require that Child Safe Standards are understood and embedded across all Council services and programs.

Standard 3 –

- Children and young people are informed about all of their rights, including safety, information and participation.
- The importance of friendships is recognised and support from peers is encouraged, to help children and young people feel safe and be less isolated
- Organisations have strategies in place to develop a culture that facilitates participation and is responsive to the input of children and young people.
- Organisations provide opportunities for children and young people to participate and are responsive to their contributions, thereby strengthening confidence and engagement.
